

Appointment of Chief Financial Officer

Houston, Texas, May 1, 2022. Stage Completions LP, a leading downhole technology provider with operations across North America, China and the Middle East, today announced the appointment of David Boersma as Chief Financial Officer. Mr. Boersma will work alongside the Stage Completions Senior Leadership Team to drive further efficiencies and continue to provide financial governance to the growing company across multiple regions.

“We are excited to have David join the leadership team at Stage at this critical juncture in the company’s growth and believe his long experience at a Venture Capital backed technology company, uniquely positions him to help drive value for all stakeholders,” said Dave Christmas, CEO. “David has proven himself as a leader across several businesses in the oilfield innovative technology sector and we look forward to his many contributions to the team.”

Mr. Boersma brings more than 30 years of financial experience across a broad range of businesses including fifteen plus years in oilfield financial roles, including public and private company roles of increasing responsibility both in the U.S. and abroad. Most recently, Mr. Boersma served as Foro Energy’s CFO, where he was responsible for leading the company’s finance and accounting group, as well as the supply chain, human resources and IT functions.

“With its international footprint and history of providing high quality innovative technology, Stage has distinguished itself a true leader within the downhole completions sector, which has become an increasingly important segment for operators in North America and around the globe,” said Mr. Boersma. “I am thrilled to be working with the entire Stage team to continue building a financially strong business.”
